Background & Experience

Jordan brings a well-rounded and ambitious background in finance and leadership, positioning himself for a strong start in his future career. His professional experience spans the credit union and banking sectors, as well as accounting in the Fargo area, providing him with a solid foundation in financial services. Most recently, he completed a Business Development Internship with E4 Insurance Services. Jordan has also earned the NAILBA Certified Case Manager certification.

Jordan's dedication to leadership development is evident from his early days. In high school, he was nominated by his Rotary peers to attend the prestigious Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA). This experience set the stage for his ongoing pursuit of leadership excellence. At North Dakota State University (NDSU), he was selected for the inaugural Building Up a Bison Emerging Leader Development Program, a testament to his initiative and potential. These programs are designed to cultivate critical leadership, communication, and decision-making skills—qualities increasingly valued in finance and business roles.

Beyond academics and work, Jordan is actively involved in professional organizations, including NAIFA North Dakota.

Jordan seeks diverse experiences, invests in leadership training, and builds a strong professional network. This combination of technical expertise, leadership acumen, and industry engagement ensures he is well-prepared to excel in future endeavors in finance, accounting, or broader business leadership roles.
